Sera Procedures

1. Criteria for Sera Collection

Any individual presenting with these symptoms: fever, weight loss (cachexia; wasting) and/or hepatosplenomegaly (usually, the spleen is more prominent than the liver), who lived and/or travelled to Leishmania endemic region is suspected to have Visceral leishmaniasis (VL). Sera from such individuals can be screened for antibody using the Kalazar Detect™ Rapid Test for Visceral Leishmaniasis (VL).

2. Sera Collection Procedure

Note: LDL recommends the use of serum separator blood collection tubes (SSTs) for acquisition of serum specimens for serological testing. If SSTs are not available, red top tubes can be used.

- a. After blood collection, invert the blood collection tube gently 5 times. Further inversion may cause alterations in specimen integrity.
- b. Position the tube in an upright position and allow the blood to clot for at least 30 minutes, but no longer than 2 hours after collection, before centrifugation.
- c. Spin the blood collection tube as per manufacturer's guidelines.
- d. Transfer the sera to a secondary tube; indicate that the specimen is serum on the secondary tube as well as on the corresponding test request form.

3. Submission of specimens

- a. Send sera directly to LDL on cold packs by overnight courier.
- b. Label the specimen legibly with the following information to prevent delay in testing:
  - Patient name
  - Unique identification number
  - Date of birth; or barcode
  - Date of collection/draw date
  - Serum
